Notes

- You should use this template for your project pre-proposal which will be presented on the first day of bootcamp week.
- Please keep it simple. Just use the 3-5 slides that follow to convey your idea in 3 minutes.
- Your central objective is to summarise your main research questions and convince us that you have the data you need to answer them.
- Your aim is to show us that you are on the right track and that any issues in the time remaining before your proposal presentation..

Slide 1 - Project Topic

- What is your project about in one sentence?
- Why does this topic interest you?
- Why do you think it will be of interest to others?

Slides 2-4 - Research Questions

- Summarise the main research questions that you wish to answer; one slide per student.
- These research questions should be specific and testable. Avoid vague questions. It should be obvious what you will measure, compare etc.
- Ideally, each group member should identify about 2-3 questions and their slide should be titled with the student's name (e.g. Barry's RQs)

Slide 5 - Datasets and Data Collection

- What data will you use to answer these questions.
- How will you collect the data? Are you relying on existing datasets or collecting your own?
- Are you combining multiple sources of data? If so, how will you accurately align them?
- How much data do you expect to get? What features will the data contain?
- Have you verified that you will be able to collect the data you need?
